

BREAKING TABOOS IN GLOBAL HEALTH

BE-CAUSE HEALTH
INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON
THE FUTURE OF GLOBAL HEALTH

Thursday 23 March 2023 – online

Friday 24 March 2023 – online and at Enabel, Brussels

Too many challenges in our global health activities remain unspoken today: colonisation and power, discrimination and racism, gender inequality, migration and the role of the diaspora, unequal access to essential health services and quality medicines, commercialisation of care, exclusion, climate justice, (health) equity and (de)growth.

Be-cause health, a platform of stakeholders in global health and healthcare both in Belgium and in Low- and Middle-Income Countries, wants to go the extra mile. By building on previous Be-cause health events (for instance on urban health, decolonisation, access to quality-assured medicines, SRHR, mental health, health inequity and injustices related to the climate emergencies, etc.), we will further explore global health topics that are left aside, ignored, or only addressed with “a High-Income Country gaze.”

During the conference we want to break these taboos, gather the knowledge, and practice there is about them, exchange insights and results, learn from successes and failures to rethink the future of global health, by giving a voice to all.

Join us in our reflection on the future of global health, on the future role of development cooperation and the role global health stakeholders could/should play in this.

Participation is free, but registration is obligatory. Registrations for the second day of the conference at Enabel are limited.

Click here for more information.

Register here

- via this form at the latest by 12 March 2023 (on a first come first serve basis) for onsite participation at Enabel (24 March)
- and via this Zoom-link for online participation by 22 March 2023. (23 and/or 24 March)

Belgian Platform for International Health

Belgium

partner in development

INSTITUTE OF TROPICAL MEDICINE
ANTWERP